BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1924.

33RD YEAR—NO. 8.

MISSISSIPPI CHURCH PRELATE DIES IN N. O. TUESDAY P. M.

Rt. Rev. J. E. Gunn, Bishop of Natchez, Representative of Mississippi, Passes Away at Hotel Dieu—Had Been Ill Since Before Holidays.

WAS SIXTH BISHOP OF STATE CATHOLIC DIOCESE.

Remains Were Taken to Natchez, Where Funeral Was Held Yesterday—Deceased Was Prominently Connected With Church Work—Was Well Known.

The Right Rev. John Edward Gunn, bishop of the diocese of Mississippi, died Tuesday afternoon of this week at Hotel Dieu, New Orleans, after suffering many months from heart trouble, contracted during a period of overwork in Natchez. The bishop was 61 years old, having spent thirty-four years in the service of the church.

The bishop was well known in Bay St. Louis and along the Gulf Coast, particularly at Pass Christian, where he spent much of his time when not at Natchez. He was a splendid mixer, a man of extreme democratic taste. Of deep learning and an indefatigable worker, he rose high in the ranks of his church.

Bishop Gunn was carried from Natchez to Hotel Dieu, at New Orleans, during the latter part of December in a serious condition. For a long time he remained without any apparent change in his health. Later, however, he had a noticeable relapse from which he did not recover.

The Right Rev. Gunn, sixth bishop of Natchez, was born in Five-mile town, county Tyrone, Ireland, in 1863. He received his primary education in the national schools of Ireland, and his college education at St. Mary's College, Dundalk, Ireland, from 1885 to 1890. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1890. He went to London, England, where he was employed in pastoral work for two years. He taught moral theology in Washington from 1892 to 1893, and was appointed pastor of the Sacred Heart parish, Atlanta, Ga., where during the thirteen years of his pastorate he erected the Sacred Heart Church, Marist College and parochial schools at Peachtree and Ivy streets. Bishop Gunn was consecrated by the Most Rev. James H. Blount, archbishop of New Orleans, in 1911, in the church in Atlanta, where he had served as pastor. The same year he took possession of the see of Natchez.

The activities of Bishop Gunn in Mississippi conformed to the same line as his work in Atlanta. He concentrated all his attention on the improvement of the Catholic education of his diocese, and through his efforts were built many parochial schools for the Catholic children of Natchez.

One of the principal interests of Bishop Gunn's pastoral work was the erection of a school for the Choctaw Indians. He was able to obtain the services of the Belgian missionary for the Choctaw Indians and the Mississippi Choctaws, and under guidance of the fathers the Divine Word opened a preparatory seminary at Bay St. Louis for negro boys. Throughout his ministry the bishop was instrumental in founding many schools for Indians, negroes and the members of his own diocese in the erection of churches and in the building of poorer churches in distant parts of his diocese.

During the world war Bishop Gunn worked indefatigably in the cause of the right by preaching many sermons to the congregations of his people and by articles urging men of his diocese to enlist in the American army.

Archbishop Shaw said that the death of the bishop had been anticipated for some time, owing to the uncertainty of his illness brought on by the strain of overwork, to which he had been subject during the week of last year. He was deeply grieved over the death of such a faithful and ardent pastor of the church in America.

The body was conveyed to Natchez Wednesday afternoon, where it lay in state in Natchez Cathedral during the whole of Thursday. Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock a solemn pontifical high mass in Natchez Cathedral, Archbishop Shaw, of New Orleans, officiating, the funeral was held. The panegyric was delivered by Bishop Morris. Interment was in Natchez Cemetery.

Rev. Father Gmelch, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, Bay St. Louis, attended the funeral. He was a personal friend of the bishop.

CARD PARTY BENEFIT TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

The second of a series of benefit card parties under the auspices of Neighborhood Circle No. 1 will be given at the Yacht Club on Tuesday afternoon, February 26th, beginning at 4 o'clock.

This will be the last affair given by Circle No. 1 until after Easter. The proceeds will be used for a much needed cause, and the presence of all the friends of the Circle is earnestly requested.

Mrs. Edna Blaine and Mrs. B. B. Blaine will be the hostesses.

LISTENING IN ON THE MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE

By The Sentinel at the State House.

Senate Works While House Talks—Efficiency Commission Proposed.

Shall Women Serve on Juries?—A New Codification of the Laws—Trouble Brewing as Tax Problem Increases in Difficulty.

(Special Correspondence The Sea Coast Echo.)

Nero fiddled while Rome burned. But really the misbehavior of the House of Representatives during the past week doesn't merit such an obvious comparison. The old rag-time song hit—"Ma and Pa Do All the Work and We Have All the Fun"—works much nearer to summing up the legislative situation. The Senate during the past week "did all the work" while the House "had all the fun." The upper chamber worked, the lower house talked—talked on everything from chiropractors to impeachment of Insurance Commissioner Henry, from pleasure trips through South Mississippi to predatory wealth. Representative Jeff Collins, of Jones county, was the worst offender by no means the only offender.

Early in the week, after much speaking of a demagogic vein, the House defeated the bill to repeal Section 903, which prohibits a corporation to own more than a million dollars of land. Thursday, however, the House turned the tables on the House, and after hours of debate the bill was indefinitely postponed. Nearly all of Friday was consumed in a discussion of whether the members of the House should accept the invitation of the Gulf Coast and South Mississippi counties and visit the State institutions at those parts. Some members thought "the bad man" would get 'em because the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad was going to run a special train and only charge two dollars for the trip. Others thought that these members that Gulfport had chartered the special train and the fare was a regular excursion rate and Tom, Dick and Harry could ride the same little "choo choo" train for the same two iron men, so the invitation was accepted and the trip fixed for Friday, February 29, Thursday, March 2. The Senate graciously accepted the invitation without debate and went on with its business.

What the Senate Accomplished.

While the House consumed the week in talk, the Senate worked steadily, disposing of many bills and enacting the following legislation: (1) Passed the 4c a gallon tax on gasoline, 2 cents to go to the State for paying the deficit and retiring bonds, and the other 2 cents to be divided between the State Highway Department and the counties for building and maintaining roads; (2) passed a "Stop, Look and Listen" bill seeking to reduce accidents at grade crossings; (3) decisively defeated the attempt to repeal of the Mortmain provision of the Constitution, to the great disappointment of the churches and church schools, which are thus prevented from taking real property left by will; and (4) passed the abatement act, quieting over 1,000 of Stokes Robertson's eleven-hour suits. The addition of two important amendments to this bill means it will have to run the gauntlet of the House again. It is, however, expected to pass.

Efficiency Commission Proposed.

The most important bill in the flock introduced during the past week was that of Senator Lowrey Love, providing for the creation of a State efficiency commission to be composed of the governor and two representatives from the State at large, named by him; the lieutenant governor and two senators, named by him; and the speaker of the House and two members of the House selected by him.

The commission would employ a secretary and if necessary an efficiency expert; would act as general purchasing agent for the State and all its 57 institutions; would supervise all repair work and new construction work authorized by the State, and would make recommendations regarding appropriations.

There is undoubtedly one of the most constructive measures yet introduced and its passage would seem assured since both Ex-Governor Russell and Governor Whitfield vigorously recommended that a board of improvement commission be created. This board can save the taxpayers more money than all the talking of all the "low pressure" group in the House can ever do. The board gets no pay except when actually in session.

Jury Service for Women.

Senator Noel, of Holmes, has introduced a bill making women eligible for jury service. Their presence on juries will undoubtedly have a salutary effect on the administration of justice. But it is bound to have an effect on women also to force them to listen to the sound of a hammer. We wonder how many women really want to serve on juries? If eligible they will have to be drawn, and take the same chances as men. Incidentally, additional facilities for the comfort and convenience of women jurors should be provided in our court houses, most of them having been built during the "reign of man."

Shall We Have a New Code?

Senator Ramsey has introduced a bill providing for a new codification of the laws of the State. It is a bill to all public officers and a God-send to the legal profession. The two volumes of Hemingway's Code come down only to 1917. The supplement includes the laws of 1920. In addition there are the laws of 1922 and since the laws of 1924 to be found only in the sheet acts. A new codification following Georgia's idea—"a political code, a civil code, and a criminal code"—would be of immense value. It is, however, a most laborious task, and should be done by just such a careful student as Prof. Hemingway or Chancellor Russell, of the University Law faculty.

Looming in the Offing.

Several bills, certain to provoke bitter fights, are about to be introduced. The committee substitute for the four insurance rating bills introduced in the Senate soon. A "general utilities" bill increasing the powers and duties of the Railroad Commission, has been proposed under the supervision of Prof. Wm. Hemingway and will be introduced this week, as will also a bill providing for a workmen's compensation law to take the place of the out-worn law of master and servant now in force. All the States of the Union but five have workmen's compensation statutes; the American Federation of Labor favors them, and a vigorous attempt will likely be made to bring Mississippi in line with the best enlightened thought of the age. However, considerable hostility is being manifested and a bitter fight is likely.

A New Subject—"Taxes."

Did you know that if all the salaries of State officials and their office help were cut out entirely, it would only make a one mill difference in your tax burden. So when the "low pressure" men rise in their might and declaim long and loudly about reducing salaries, they are just talking to hear themselves. If abolishing all salaries only makes a difference of one mill in your levy, then reducing the salaries of a few assistants and hard working rapscallions can make any difference at all.

The Ways and Means.

The ways and means committee are studying the problem of enough revenue to carry on the few outstanding measures. But the money to avoid a deficit. But the average member throws a fit at mention of an upward change in the levy. So gas tax, income tax, sales tax and a variety of others are under consideration instead. Folks, this Legislature is just waking up to the difficulties in its path. Look for some to happen thick and fast—and soon.

HANDSOME FILLING STATION FOR MAIN AND FRONT.

Main and Front streets, considered one if not the most prominent business corner in the city, and owned by C. C. McDonald, is to be used in the immediate future for an up-to-date and ornamental filling station.

Mr. McDonald is building for Charles A. Breath, who will be the tenant and take possession on completion of the building. The structure will be of fire-resistance type, brick and concrete. It will form the front, and sheet metal the rear and side walls. The front line of the lot will be occupied by the proposed building and running along Main street some thirty-odd feet. Edward Spurl, of New Orleans-Bay St. Louis, is the architect.

Messrs. McDonald and Breath spent two days in New Orleans and visited the filling stations there. With the architect they decided on a type that will be both ornamental and practical. Work is to begin as soon as the plans will have been completed. Mr. Breath hopes to continue his business at the present stand in the Mauffray building. The new stand will handle the Standard Oil products.

WAVELAND TO HOLD SPECIAL ELECTION.

Board of Mayor and Aldermen of Sister City to Hold Election March 20—To Vote on Bond Issue—Attorney General Says No Sloping Beach.

No sloping beach but a sea wall, says Mississippi's attorney general in the matter of Waveland and the building of its proposed riparian protection. Some time since Waveland amended its charter in order it might be authorized to build a sea wall. Recently the powers that be decided it might be better to embrace the sloping beach plan instead. But the attorney general gave the opinion that since the charter had been amended to build a sea wall, a sloping beach could not take its place. Beside, the $50,000 to be given the municipality of Waveland by Hancock county to help defray the expense is for the building of a sea wall.

At a special meeting of the Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen, held Tuesday night, acting on the request of Bond Commissioners, a special election was ordered for March 20th, in order the voters might vote on the proposition to issue bonds in the amount of $225,000.00. The length of the wall will be 8 and 3-10th miles, or approximately 20,000 feet. The proposed wall will be of a different type from the Bay St. Louis wall, it is understood, and will be of low size.

The Woodmen hall Mardi Gras day and night promises well. The afternoon ball will be principally for the children and the evening affair for adults.

NEW ROAD BILL INTRODUCED BY SMITH IN HOUSE

Newspaper Man of Jackson County Introduces New Mississippi Composite Bill for Reorganization of Highway Department—Notable Features.

WORKS WITH FEDERAL, STATE AND COUNTY INTERESTS.

Bill Appears to Amalgamate All Authority and Makes Matter of Road Building a More United Proposition—Four-Cent Gas Tax Apportioned.

A synopsis of the bill prepared by the House committee on roads, bridges and ferries for the reorganization of the Mississippi highway department has been prepared by Chairman Arthur V. Smith, of Pascagoula, representative from Jackson county. The bill was introduced in the House Monday. It is a composite measure, containing features of many of the highway bills introduced in the House, and was prepared by the committee after four weeks' deliberations.

The bill is designed to place the State highway department of Mississippi on the same high standard adopted by many other States who have in recent years reorganized their departments. The measure is necessarily lengthy, but the synopsis prepared by Chairman Smith sets forth the meat of it briefly as follows:

"1. Reorganizes highway department along modern lines, proved by experience in other States.

"2. Provides for acceptance of Federal aid in the State, and assents to the terms and provisions of the Federal highway act.

"3. Creates a State system of highways to be Federal aid highways. The location of these is approximately as outlined in the report of the State highway commission, and are suggested only. Beneficial changes will be made to meet varying conditions.

"4. Defines duties of highway commission, and the organization, powers, limitations, also relation of supervisors, duties of highway commissioners, and subordinates.

"5. Provides for patrol maintenance and improved roads. This is a real need in Mississippi to make the roads now in use last through the life of bonds issued to build them.

"6. Provides for road construction, for maintenance and bridge construction and maintenance to be under supervision of engineers specially equipped by training for this work, and for eventually setting up 'state standards' in types of road and bridge construction.

"7. Provides for distribution of a 4-cent gasoline tax as follows: "One cent to State highway department for support of department; for State aid road, emergency fund and revolving fund.

"Two cents to county highway fund, to be used only in constructing and maintaining State roads in that county.

"One cent to go to counties to pay interest and maturities on bonds issued for road improvements, or if no bonds issued for road purposes or maintaining them, to be used in improving roads in the discretion of the board of supervisors.

"8. Provides fund for restriction fees and profit from sale of tags to go into state highway fund. Only one tag required, thus cutting cost to State in half.

"9. Provides for funds spent in counties from the county highway fund to be allowed by boards of supervisors as other funds are allowed, but all work to be on State system of highways under the supervision of the State highway department."

OUTSTANDING ATHLETIC EVENT FOR TONIGHT

Tonight and tomorrow afternoon will see two games of basketball at S. C. C. Gym. The Knights of Columbus team will meet the Varsity in what will probably be the end of the season for the fighting Rock-a-Chaws.

It appears the best game has been reserved for the last. The Knights have several old Stanislaus boys in their line-up—Voelkel, Shirer, and others.

BAY ST. LOUIS' NEW $50,000 COLLEGE GYM FORMALLY OPENED TUESDAY.

Stanislaus' Beautiful New Gymnasium Formally Opened—Surprise Staged by Frank "Nook" Martin—In Monster Routers' Parade—Music, Fireworks and Banners.

The night of Tuesday, Feb. 19th, witnessed an epoch in the athletic history of good old Bay St. Louis, when the new $50,000 gymnasium of St. Stanislaus was formally opened to an eager and loyal public—throng that taxed the seating capacity of the large court.

Martin's Merry Marchers.

Word was passed early in the evening for the "gang" to meet at Martin's "Nook." The fair and UN-fair sex responded en masse. Professor Bandere's bass band came early and opened up with a vim, drawing those who had not been apprised of the big doings, till the "gang" had assumed goodly proportions. Banners bearing various inscriptions, such as "Bay Routers' Club," "Bay St. Louis Is Proud of Stanislaus," "Three Cheers For Commagere," etc., etc., were passed out. Roman candles were distributed, the line of march was decided, then headed by Grand Marshal "Nook" Martin, and three banners announcing the "Bay Routers' Club," followed immediately by the band, the line started for the College. To the burst of martial music the fireworks were started, making a beautiful spectacle in the dark as the varicolored stars, accompanied by martial sparks, shot up in the ambient air. "Hail, the Gang's All Here!" and shouts of "Rah, Rah, Rock-a-Chaws!" rent the night.

Up Union street, past the Gym and into the campus went the merry crowd; climbing the stairs, they entered the magnificent gymnasium.

Home of the Rock-a-Chaws.

Chirring the spacious court twice, amid the thunderous applause of the waiting throng, the happy Routers were seated in a space reserved for them.

The look of gratification on the faces of Bro. Lambert, president, and Bro. Peter, vice president and athletic director, at this demonstration of loyalty on the part of the public was an ample manifestation of their satisfaction and that they felt fully repaid for their labor.

The new home of the fighting Rock-a-Chaws is a magnificent edifice, on the same architectural style with the other college buildings; staid, stately and substantial. The inside measurements of the Gym court are 62 1/2 by 125 feet, with some seventeen feet from the floor to the steel girders. The floor is a distinct feature, being of the very best yellow pine heart, two and one-half inches in width and so sawn that it is splinter-proof, thereby assuring positive safety to the athletes from that angle. The seating capacity is between five and six hundred (which, we dare say, will have to be augmented in the not far distant future to accommodate the throngs).

The ground floor of the Gym contains four club dressing rooms with showers, a general shower room, toilets and lavatories, one pool room and two classrooms.

The construction of the building is of concrete brick and steel, a lasting pile that will remain for ages as a fitting monument to the zeal and public spiritedness of the good Brothers of the Sacred Heart.

Bay St. Louis is justly proud of the achievement of such excellent citizens as will we feel, back the fighting Rock-a-Chaws "off the boards" in all their undertakings.

Now Listen, Folks.

Don't you think, EVERY one of you, that we SHOULD back them?

Aye, let us make this a REAL College town, backed by every citizen in the full combination of; Basket-ball, Base-ball, Track and Foot-ball.

The way to accomplish that purpose and show the gazing world what we mean is to attend ALL the sports. Go to them whether you KNOW the game or not, wear the colors (Red and Black), decorate your houses on great game days, and boost, boost ALL the time. If you are not acquainted with the rules of the various games, the Brothers will gladly supply all that is necessary to put you "wise."

Take the College away from the Bay—what have you left?

HANCOCK COUNTY CONVENTION OF PARENT-TEACHERS' CLUBS SATURDAY

The Hancock County Parent-Teachers' Association's convention will be held on Saturday, March 1st. It will be an all-day session, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., held at the Bay St. Louis Central School.

This convention will consist of delegates from every P. T. A. in the county and of representatives from many schools as possible. So this is an announcement and an invitation to everyone interested in children.

There will be a speaker from Jackson, sent by State Superintendent Bond. The district chairman of P. T. A., Mrs. P. H. Adams, of Gulfport, will address the meeting. It is hoped that Dr. Hays, State director of social hygiene, will send a speaker.

There will be various subjects discussed of vital importance to all thinking people. The public is urged to take advantage of this meeting to hear some interesting things. Anybody can come, but only delegates can vote.

Each person is to bring his or her own lunch, the local P. T. A. furnishing coffee to all.

Several musical numbers and some recitations will be featured. Come, everybody. Bring a sandwich, have a profitable time. Don't let all the other counties beat us in public spirit!

BENEFIT FOR THE CIVIC GOOD WAS BIG SUCCESS.

Firemen's Bill Thursday Evening Largely Attended—Was Social and Financial Success—Citizens Turned Out in Large Numbers to Help Cause.

Realizing it was for the civic good, a large number of our people turned out Thursday night and braved the inclement weather to attend and patronize the benefit ball, given by the Bay St. Louis Fire Company. Woodmen Hall was filled with beaux and belles and many who did not participate in the dancing were present in civic spirit and patronized the benefit liberally. Many did not attend, but cash and other contributions evidenced their faith and loyalty in the organization.

Martial Bertin was chairman of the ball and much of the credit for its success are due to his indefatigable effort, working for weeks in the interest of the success of the affair. The ball committee was composed of M. Bertin, ex-officio; J. V. Bon-temple, Henry Capdepon, Gus Temple, Hugh Bourgeois, R. L. Genin, R. W. Webb, John Beaudry, and others.

Floor committee: Frank Quintini, chairman; August Sentinelli, Judge W. H. Starr, H. F. Mattox, E. W. Drackett, H. deS. Gillum, Claud Monti, Thomas Quintini, O. T. Arnold, Peace officer, Ed. Prevost.

In charge of the door were O. T. Arnold, P. Capdepon, Charles Hillen. In charge of the hat and cloak room, H. F. Mattox.

Restaurant—Mrs. E. Boudin, assisted by Mrs. Julia Arbo, Mrs. Frank Dillmann, Mrs. Louise Hobbs.

Mrs. Hugh Bourgeois was awarded the prize ring for selling the highest number of tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Perre were awarded the prize cake for the best waltz dancers of the evening. Competition was keen and the contest was interesting.

Watch chain donated by Frank Mann, jewelry was captured by Frank Wittmann, of Pass Christian.

Watch, donated by Bay Jewelry Store, G. E. Temple, proprietor, was awarded to William McKensley, of Bay St. Louis.

Cake, donated by the Peacock Tea Room, Mrs. April Bourgeois, proprietress, was awarded to the holder of ticket No. 41.

Cakes were donated by Mrs. Frank Quintini, Mrs. E. S. von Ehren, Mrs. A. L. Bourgeois, Mrs. R. W. Webb.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

On Friday, February 15th, we journeyed to Orange Grove, where we played the basketball teams of that town. We left Bay St. Louis at 11 o'clock in trucks and touring cars. Chapman's car was in the lead; it led us to the ferry where we boarded it and were ferried across the bay. The motoring was enjoyed by all. It took about an hour and a half to make the trip. On the way candy was eaten in large quantities, and jokes were told. During the trip, a group of pupils were discussing the story of the Mystery Women, when Conrad Sick, a member of the boys' first basketball team, spoke up and said: "Once there was an old maid whose husband left her." This remark met with a hearty peal of laughter. Well, we have heard lots worse than that.

Having arrived in Orange Grove an hour early, we strolled about the town. The first game was called at 2:30. Our boys trotted out on the court to play against the Orange Grove team, which was composed of much larger boys; so Bay High played a defensive game. The score was a little one-sided, 8-35, favor of Orange Grove. The girls of our school tried their luck next, and had better luck than the boys of our school. However, they too, were defeated. This score was 14 in favor of Orange Grove. Nevertheless, we tried our best; so we had nothing to mourn about. The only thing that we could do was to take our defeat gamely and to resolve to work harder at basketball in the future. We left Orange Grove at 4 o'clock and made our way homeward with the vision of a warm supper dancing in our heads. We hoped that the thing had come when we may wipe out this defeat.

"YOUNG HEITZMANN," LOCAL BOY, WINS IN BILLOXI FIGHT.

Young Heitzmann met and defeated Mark Burdine, of Biloxi, in the first round of their scheduled six-round bout in Biloxi last Tuesday night before a record crowd.

This was Heitzmann's first time fighting in the semi-final, and he was highly applauded by the audience.

Heitzmann has engaged in eleven fights and so far is undefeated. The Bay St. Louis product is a coming champion, and is going to "make good" in the field of athletics in which he is so successful.

music, and the Woodmen for hall; also the ladies and gentlemen, one and all, who contributed by their services, and to all who attended the ball and sent in cash contributions. It is expected $325.00 will be the amount netted.

PAT HARRISON HITS COOLIDGE AND THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

Senator From Mississippi in Language Unmistakable Declares Opposition Party and President Are "Defending" Doheny and Sinclair Leases.

"CAUTIOUS CAL" GIVEN CALL DOWN PROPER.

Refers to Coolidge in Matter As "Careful Cal and Cautious Cal"—Says Denby's Resignation Should Not Have Been Accepted—Harrison Speaks Out.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Charges that Chairman Adam of the Republican National committee, George B. Lockwood, its secretary, and other Republican leaders are "defending" the Doheny and Sinclair oil leases were made in the Senate today by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi.

Acceptance of Secretary Denby's resignation by President Coolidge also was criticized by Senator Harrison, who said it conflicted with the president's New York speech promising that no innocent person in the oil scandal would be sacrificed.

"Careful Cal, Cautious Cal," left some of you high and dry yesterday," said Senator Harrison to the Republican side. "After declaring against encroachment of executive powers by the Senate in adopting the resolution calling for Denby's resignation, he permitted Denby to resign. Did he stand by you? Not one of you thinks he did."

The Mississippi senator said the National Republican, which he described as the "official organ" of the Republican party, recently contained an editorial which "defended" the oil leases; declared a session of Congress and demagogues supported the resolution calling for the Denby resignation, and asserted that 95 per cent of the evidence before the Senate oil committee was "bunk."

Senator Harrison defended William G. McAdoo's connection with the Doheny leases and Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, asked what legal services he could have rendered "which are worth a retainer of $25,000, and yet are not known to anyone."

"I know his connection with the Moses case was considered harshly professional," continued Senator Moses, "and the fees disproportionate unless the factor of possible political influence was considered."

Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, joined in the defense of Mr. McAdoo.

"We are to gather, then," rejoined Senator Moses, "that he was certain his connection was legal and ethical—so he resigned it."

"Assistant Secretary Roosevelt is just as guilty as Secretary Denby," Senator Harrison declared. "One cannot aspire to the office of governor of New York and lead his friends to believe that he occupies a responsible part in operating the navy—one cannot carry executive orders around and somehow fail to include vital statements in opposition to that order without assuring full responsibility."

"If Denby should get out, Roosevelt must get out. The country desires earnestly that the government be purged of everyone having a connection with the oil leases."

BENEFIT BALL BY WAVELAND SCHOOL CLUB SUCCESSFUL—LADIES ARE THANKFUL.

The dance given by the Parents' Co-Operative Club of Waveland, Miss., held Saturday, February 16th, at the W. O. W. Hall, Bay St. Louis, was a great success and the club would like to extend its heartfelt thanks to the kind people of Bay St. Louis and surrounding towns who helped to make it a success. Among those who helped were Mr. Kellar and Mr. Starr, of whom enough cannot be said. But then, when did Mr. Kellar ever turn a cold shoulder on a deaf ear when the little school children called to him. And again, the grand lodge of the W. O. W., with their big hearts, we cannot find words to express the gratitude we feel toward them. Also the men of our own town, who worked with the mothers to make the dance the success it was.

The ladies cleared, above expense, $45.50, and hope to do even better the next time, for as the good people come to know that the work is for such a good cause, we feel sure that they will be more responsive to the next call.

When one stops to think of the added comfort, the lighter work we can give to our good teachers by giving a little time of our own, as well as pleasure to others, we feel sure that there will soon be others glad to help. While there are lots of people of today who will say that what was good enough for them in their school days is good enough for their children, but that is not the point. We want our children to have better comforts and easier ways to gain the education that is due to every child, be they rich or poor; and in order to accomplish this the people will have to get together and work with the teachers, not only now and again, but at all times.

FRILLS IN S. HOOLS.

We read a lengthy article in a magazine a few days ago to the effect that too many frills are being introduced into the schools of this country, that too many things are started that the scholars never finish and that too many organizations are dabbling with the education of our children. Maybe the article doesn't strike home, but at any rate it is a sensible thing to consider, for it is a matter that affects the welfare of the future citizens of this community.

It is pointed out that children in many schools are given so many things to study that they get very little of anything, not enough of any one study to make it of value to them in after life. Health discussions used in the school room are often of questionable value, and very often they are inclined to be a boost for some special brand of food. A great deal of time is given to teaching thrift, and the writer says that is well and good, but adds that just as much time should be given to teaching children how to judiciously spend money once they have acquired it.

The article convinces us of one thing, and that is that we are not doing things in educational circles now as we did twenty-five years ago. In the near future the methods now in vogue will also be obsolete. New ideas are being constantly tried out. Progress has to be made. So maybe after all the child who makes sure of a goodly knowledge of "readin' and 'ritin'" and "rithmetic" will be ahead of the game when he starts out to battle the world for the living that he is certain to have to fight for.

ANOTHER SUBSTITUTE.

A cable report from Lyons, France, in the daily papers is to the effect that an auto was propelled 60 miles by gas generated from charcoal and that the cost was only 25 cents, or one-fourth what it would have cost in that country to run the same car the same distance with gasoline. Details are lacking as to speed or power. But let us suppose the new discovery is a success—what will become of it? In this country we have heard rumors of substitutes for gasoline, but where is the autoist who has had a chance to try one out? We don't doubt but that there has been discovered a cheaper power for autos than gasoline, and maybe a fuel that is far more easily obtained. But who is going to suppose that the oil magnates of this country were not among the first to hear of it and the first to get control of it and make its marketing impossible? So long as even the government of this country can't successfully oppose the oil octopus, what's the use for an individual to try it by introducing to the world a substitute for gasoline?

BROADCASTINGS.

If the mothers must teach their boys that money isn't everything, then they should not feel disappointed if they take a job in a bank instead of learning to be plasterers.

In the game of crack-the-whip it seems that the ultimate consumer always gets on the short end.

Maybe if we'd give our congressmen a commission on all the money they save the taxpayers we'd be able to get something done.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who wore a black bow tie that fastened on with a little wire loop?

The man who first called them "easy payments" was certainly a mighty poor judge of adjectives.

We see a headline in a daily reading: "Long skirts dangerous for women." Yes—but it's the short ones that are dangerous for men.

We wouldn't be surprised in this age of progress to hear of some woman suing her husband for divorce because he can't make home-brew like her father used to make.

The dollar bill has no eagles on it but we notice that it continues to fly just the same.

As we look at it, these "centers of culture" are places where girls never learn how to cook.

When a man gets it into his head that he owes his family as much loyalty as he owes his country he commences to make a pretty good citizen.

Why is it that the man who is too old or too fat to run always has the most trouble with his hat blowing off?

With the constant clamor for beer, lower taxes and a bonus, it looks as though politicians will have plenty to talk about this year.

We know one husband who said he'd be more polite to his wife only he's afraid she couldn't withstand the shock.

They poured 5,000 gallons of bootleg whiskey into the Ohio river at Cincinnati recently. Now you know what people mean when they say "poor fish."

Civilized man is a good deal like an over-rimmed egg. He never realizes how bad he is until adversity gives him a hard crack.

It is said that since prohibition there has been more money. We can believe it, judging by some of the songs we hear sung.

WHICH TYPE ARE YOU?

The man who stands on the street corner with his hands stuffed down in his pockets, his shoulders stooped and a sneer on his face is not worth anything to the community. He's the same one who says the volunteers at a fire didn't know how to fight—but he never lends a hand. He's the one who complains about rats in the streets, but he has not paid any taxes for years and does not help keep them in condition. He's the one who finds fault with the public school and the teachers, but never did anything in his life to improve them. He's the one who condemns everything and sees no good in anything.

You all know him and his type, and it seems foolish to waste our time on him. Yet we can't help devoting a moment to pointing out the fact that the sooner such citizens leave any community the better off that community is going to be. Contrast him with the man who is a booster and who can be counted on to help every worthy cause. This type of man pays his debts and his taxes, stands for everything that is for the betterment of Bay St. Louis and the community and who never allows his enthusiasm for his home town to lag.

This type of man, and we have many of them here, is an asset to any community. It is men of this class who are responsible for all of the improvements that are made. We owe it to him that we have as good streets as we do, that our school system is as modern as it is and that we live in a place we can boast of to our friends. Classify yourself and see which class you belong to, see which type you match. If you belong to the former it's time to wake up and take a tumble to yourself. If you belong to the latter class—more power to you!

FUQUA CAPTURES NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR.

Politics in our sister State of Louisiana have been seething for months past. The race for governor attracted national interest. The second primary, Tuesday, in which Henry L. Fuqua, citizen of East Baton Rouge, captured the nomination over Bouanchaud. No campaign in the history of Louisiana carried such issues as that just ended. Not the candidate, but their over-zealous and other friends injected religion, directly and indirectly.

This is lamentable and brings no good. The precedent is to be deplored and it is hoped we shall have no further politics of this brand. James B. Keeling, feature writer for the Times-Picayune, gives the following review, published the morning after the election:

"The result of the second primary reveals one outstanding feature. It is that the Klan is not as powerful as some would have had the people of the State to believe. Prominent politicians from the northern part of the State who were connected with the Ku Klux Klan, but whose careers were such as to make positive the belief that they simply had joined it to keep the Klan clean, came to New Orleans and entered into a political alliance with the Old Regulars, many of whose leaders and ward and precinct workers are Catholics, behind the candidacy of Fuqua.

"Fuqua is a Protestant, of Huguenot descent. He received thousands of Catholic votes in New Orleans and the other Catholic parishes.

"Bouanchaud is a Catholic. While he made no attempt to inject religion into the campaign, many of his supporters did.

"A review of the vote in yesterday's primary displays that the question of religion did not enter into the vote in New Orleans, but that it did enter considerably into the vote of the country parishes. The Long vote in North Louisiana, which, according to all political indications, might have been anticipated as going for Bouanchaud, went almost solidly for the Protestant, Fuqua. In the same way, down in the Catholic parishes of South Louisiana, the Long vote went to a great extent for the Catholic, Bouanchaud.

"Fuqua's campaign for the governorship extended over six months, while Bouanchaud's was for two years. A year ago most of Bouanchaud's political friends were insistent upon him getting out of the race. Many of the leading politicians of the State were frank in saying that they thought it was best that a Catholic be not a candidate for governor in this election; that to show the world that Louisiana was not a Ku Klux State, that it would be best to elect an anti-Klan Protestant for governor. Bouanchaud had refused to see it in this light, declaring that a candidate's religion should not figure in a political campaign. Many of his friends stayed by him, although not agreeing with him; but many of them declined to do so and went into the movement to elect a Protestant anti-Klan candidate and eventually succeeded in persuading Fuqua to enter.

"Bouanchaud announced that he would not appoint a known Klansman to office. Fuqua declined to make such an utterance, declaring that he would reserve the right to appoint men upon their individual fitness for office.

"Looking back over the last six months of political turmoil, it can be seen that Mr. Fuqua's refusal to be committed in either religious or racial issue, put on the contrary a consistent, persistent declaration that what the State needs was peace, was the great winning factor for him. He is a man of strong character and the further the campaign went the more convinced became many of the voters that Fuqua alone would be governor if he went into office."

NEW FARM PROBLEMS.

In other days, but days still fresh in the memory of many citizens, the farmer plowed his fields, planted his seed, cultivated his plants and marketed his crops through the closest buyer, taking all he could get for his product. Today the selling and distribution process is much more complicated. He has to study freight rates, co-operative marketing, how to increase production by the aid of labor-saving devices and at the same time not lose the fertility of his soil. He is forced to study credit facilities, market demands, productive costs and chances, pest control, scientific selection of seeds and matters of social, public and economic concern. There was a time when farming was just simply farming. Today it is a business that carries more detail than any other on earth. And that's why we always feel that we wanted to take off our hat to the successful farmer—the man who has to have more brains than thousands engaged in other lines of business or trade.

"CUSSING" BOARD OF SUPERVISORS DEPLORABLE HABIT.

The Carthage (Miss.) Carthaginian says that "cussing" the board of supervisors has been practiced so long it has become a habit, and one great to be deplored. It has never accomplished anything; never will. Quit it. The job is a big one and in many instances a thankless one, no matter how hard a member may strive to do his full duty.

"The office of supervisor is about the most important of the county offices. Your supervisor needs and counts your co-operation. Give it to him. You will feel better and he will do better.

"Constructive criticism is welcomed by sensible men, but constant nagging is detestable."

COHEN LOSES FIGHT.

The nomination of Walter L. Cohen, negro, to be comptroller of customs at New Orleans, was rejected by the Senate. The vote came after three hours' debate in executive session. Senators Brunsard and Rensseld objecting to Cohen on the ground that he is personally objectionable to them. Cohen was nominated by Harding and later renominated by Coolidge.

Cohen has been holding the office actively for a year or so. His appointment not confirmed, he will not be paid salary for his services.

Cohen, a property owner in Bay St. Louis, is a frequent visitor locally.

HOMER EDUCATION.

To work out a practical plan of co-operation in making education available to all the people in their homes, the United States commissioner of education has called a national conference on home education to be held on May 7, at the University of Minnesota, in conjunction with the annual meeting of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Association.

Four Americans are the outstanding men of the twentieth century, in the opinion of President M. L. Burton, of the University of Michigan. His selections are Theodore Roosevelt, Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Orville Wright. The men have leadership for the following reasons, Mr. Burton considers: Theodore Roosevelt, for his comprehension of the social problems of his time; Henry Ford, for his new social order; Thomas Edison, for his inventive genius; Orville Wright, for his creative work in heavier-than-air flying. Dr. Burton regretted he was not able to place a literary man in his list.

PASS CHRISTIAN HAS GOOD PROSPECTS FOR HINES RAILROAD.

Officials of Hines Lumber Company Visit Pass Christian and Confer With Representatives of Chamber of Commerce—Road From Kiln to Pass.

Manager Pettibone and Engineer DeArms, representing the Mississippi Southern Railroad Company, which is now operating a standard gauge road, with modern equipment and excellent service from Lumberton to Kiln, and which is seeking a terminal at Pass Christian, were the guests on Tuesday evening of the local Chamber of Commerce and attended the session of the city council held that date, says the Pass Christian Coast Beacon of the 16th.

That paper further says: "Mr. Pettibone was introduced by President McGlathery, and made an address to the house, in which he stated that it was the purpose of his company to bring the road into Pass Christian, and in that effort they had already secured nearly the entire right of way from Kiln to this place. He had personally viewed the terminal site here, and was well pleased with every detail. Blue prints of the road were exhibited, and the sincerity of the manner in which Mr. Pettibone spoke caused much interest and enthusiasm among our people. He extended an invitation to the Chamber of Commerce to send a committee, to his guests, to view his road now in operation, and on that committee Mayor Spence, Capt. McGlathery, E. J. Adam, Sr., R. V. Abbley, O. E. Jones and Capt. J. T. McDonald were among those who went to Kiln and thence to Lumberton.

"From all the Beacon can learn and judge by what it is able to see, we believe that if the people of Pass Christian want this road to come here they can get it. We really believe it is up to them to decide, as the railroad people have done everything in their power so far to bring it here. We ought to have it."

These men were arrested last week in a raid made by Sheriff Bontemps and his deputies.

—The Bay-Waveland Club will be host tonight to the juvenile and junior members and guests at a children's ball, the first of its kind given by the club, and given exclusively for the younger set. The affair will last from 8 to 11 o'clock. Friends of members' sons and daughters, an announcement of the club says, admitted on invitation secured throughout the members. Admission, 50 cents. The affair promises to be quite a success, judging from the number of applications for admittance.

—Mrs. E. J. Toca returned home Sunday from Delisle, across from Bay St. Louis, to which place she had been called the latter part of last week by message announcing the illness and subsequent death of her father, Mr. Moran, one of the oldest and best known residents of that section of the country. The funeral took place from the home of Mrs. Toca, where he made his home, and the temporary home of the family, at Delisle, La.

LOCAL SPORTS.

(By The Echo Staff Reporter.)

Sharpshooters' Streak Stopped.

On Sunday, the 17th, the famous Sharpshooters (135's) were stopped in their long winning streak by the Troop 65 of N. O. by a score of 28 to 23, after a straight line of twenty-six victories, dating back to January, 1923.

The adage of the "pitcher going to the wall" held good again. The long lane got to it's turn once more.

That great pass work which the Sharpshooters had used so often to vanquish their many opponents was missing. Team work that gladdened the eye of the rooter was a negligible quantity in this game.

The visitors got an early start and ran up a score of nine points before the locals got started. Meyer was sent in and caged a shot that seemed to get them going, and although practically "left at the post" they came strong and ended the first half only five points behind.

The visitors, a very strong and fast team, kept consistently at it and their early lead was never headed. The final score being the same as their lead in the first half.

C. C. M. Swamped.

As a fitting event to christen their new home, the Rock-a-Chaww-at snowed under the Cadets from Gulfport by a score of 36 to 16 on the night of Feb. 19th.

In the first half the Red Devils played rings around the visitors, the score running up to 21 to 6, with score coming from caging shots from all angles, and every man on the team doing star work.

With the runaway, Commagere sent in every sub he had—fourteen men, including the regulars, taking part—and at no time did the Cadets threaten to become dangerous.

Tulane.

The Rock-a-Chaww-at lost the Tulane game on the Tulane court....well, there's a deal of consolation in the knowledge that every other team that tackled the Green Wave got the same wetting, and some of them got worse than the Rock-a-Chaww-at received, and they far beyond the Prep School age, too.

So, there's no disgrace in it and we're satisfied.

The game was of the paradox variety: clean and still very foul. We never heard so many fouls called before; both sides suffering intensely.

Lyman Hi Defeated.

The Sharpshooters started off on another jaunt on Thursday night by taking the Lyman Hi into camp to the tune of 29 to 19, in which the whole wrecking crew took part with very good practice.

We trust that this is the beginning of another streak for our 135's that will be a long time in breaking.

Go to it, lads; even a Cabinet officer has a bad break some times.

Work and Play at S. J. A.

News Notes of Personal and General Interest From St. Joseph's Academy.

The Junior Class Play.

We expected great things from the Juniors' entertainment and were not disappointed.

The dainty va'entine programs announced the evening's proceedings as follows:

Instrumental Duet—Ellen Welch, Carmel Kuebel.

St. Valentine—Song—Class '25.

The Revolt—Dialogue.

Guest characters—Grandma Grace (directress of school), R. Araguel; Pauline (janitress), G. Green; Susan Jane Jones (professor), E. Welch; Kate (pupil), D. Vial; Lucie (pupil), V. Fueich; Margie (pupil), A. Combe; Edith (pupil), A. Palanque; Ida (pupil), O. Mauffray; Grace (pupil), C. Kuebel; May (pupil), M. Favre.

We're the Kind of a Class You'll Never Forget—Class Song, Class '25.

The music and singing were heartily enjoyed, but the real treat of the evening was "The Revolt," in which each Junior twilted her part as if it had been made especially for her.

Genevieve Green, as janitress, was the star of the play, closely followed by Ellen Welch, as a militant suffragette, and Rosalie Araguel. These three nearly brought the house down overhead behind the scenes the day of the Juniors' class play. Everybody was putting on everybody else's belongings and just the thing that you happened to want at that special moment seemed to have slid out of existence. As the different characters, dressed in their costumes, laughter and brought constant peals of laughter.

The Class Song, "The Class You'll Never Forget," made us realize indeed that was a class we could never forget. After the closing song a delicious luncheon was served to the guests on prettily decorated tables. "Now can you beat that?"

Behind the Screen.

"Hey! That's Mine! You've got my hat!" No, not ravings from a "Mad House." Just a few words overheard behind the scenes the day of the Juniors' class play. Everybody was putting on everybody else's belongings and just the thing that you happened to want at that special moment seemed to have slid out of existence. As the different characters, dressed in their costumes, laughter and brought constant peals of laughter.

The Class Song, "The Class You'll Never Forget," made us realize indeed that was a class we could never forget. After the closing song a delicious luncheon was served to the guests on prettily decorated tables. "Now can you beat that?"

A Dangerous Mistake

Bay St. Louis Mothers Should Not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children.

Many children have weak kidneys. An early warning is bed-wetting. Often followed by backache, headache, languor.

"This is a mistake, to neglect these troubles.

To blame the child for its own distress.

Seek to check the cause.

Save the child from dangerous kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially good for weak kidneys.

Thousands of parents know their worth.

Read this testimony.

Mrs. Frank Edwards, 2315 Sixteenth St., Gulfport, Miss., says: "My little granddaughter, Mary, complaining of a pain in her back, and occasionally she had headaches, too. Her kidneys acted poorly and she had no control over the kidney secretions. I started giving her Doan's Kidney Pills and they entirely cured her. She has had no return of the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Edwards had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ECHOES FROM ST. STANISLAUS

With S. S. C. Collegians in Class Room and on Campus

Stanislaus 135 Beat Lyman High.

Thursday night St. Stanislaus College 135-pound team defeated the team of Lyman High School, 28 to 19, in a basketball game. The score was 11 to 8 in favor of the locals at the end of the first half, and in the second half, after a combing of the game, the substitutes were sent in.

The score: Stanislaus 28, Lyman 19.

Stanislaus Gets Even Break.

Boy Scout Troop 65, of New Orleans, broke the winning streak of the St. Stanislaus College 135-pound team here yesterday afternoon, when the Scouts defeated the Sharpshooters by a score of 28 to 23.

The Sharpshooters had scored a string of 26 victories since January, 1922, previous to yesterday's defeat. The Troop 65 team showed some fine teamwork, started off strong and were leading by a score of 15 to 1 at the middle of the first half. The Scouts, however, came back strong and ran up 14 points, while the Scouts were held to 4 points during the remainder of the first half, which ended by a score of 10 to 14.

The Stanislaus Reserves continued their string of victories by defeating Loyola College by a score of 34 to 15 in the other game yesterday. The Saints started off strong and were leading by a score of 11 to 0 in the Loyola game never threatening. The playing of Gossen and Pettit was of the highest order for Stanislaus.
